

It has come to my attention that LPFM service may be expanded and FM translators, like the one which provides the KLOVE signal, may be forced off the air. KLOVE, as you may know, is a listener-supported station. Thousands of families across America, like mine, keep them on the air because their lives are enriched by the positive message and music presented by this station. I believe it is also so strongly supported because people see it as a way to reach out in a loving, affirming manner to those in despair. During their pledge drives, we often hear from people who were given new hope when at their darkest moments. I believe this world needs every bit of light that can be brought into it, and I believe KLOVE is a strong ministry in the life of my family, my community, and this country!

PLEASE make sure that we can continue to listen to their wholesome values and daily encouragement. What our families are listening to and watching on tv and radio will shape the future of this great country. I want to encourage character and morals in my children, don't you?
